1st Step Prayer

Dear Lord, Help me to see and admit that I am powerless over my alcoholism. Help me to understand how my alcoholism has led to unmanageability in my life. Help me this day to understand the true meaning of powerlessness. Remove from me all denial of my alcoholism.

(This prayer is developed from the chapter, More About Alcoholism)

"Each day, somewhere in the world, recovery begins when one alcoholic talks to another alcoholic, sharing experience, strength, and hope."

"carrying the Message is the basic service that our fellowship gives, this is our principal aim and the main reason for our existence.

Therefore A.A. is more than a set of principles, it is a society of alcoholics in action. We must carry the message, else we ourselves can wither and those who haven't been given the truth may die. Hence an A.A. service is anything whatever that helps us to reach a fellow sufferer - ranging all the way from the 12 Step itself to a 10 cent cup of coffee and to A.A.'s General Service Office for National and International action. The sum total of all the services is our Third Legacy of service."

"We admitted we were powerless over alcohol – that our lives had become unmanageable."

If lucky, our journey has taken us to arriving at a point of surrender. For some people the road they traveled getting to the first step in AA has been more than enough to convince them that unconditional surrender is the only option for recovery.

For a lot of people in recovery, walking into a treatment center or an AA meeting the first time is a major part of "working" step one. Your simple and humble act of asking for help is effectively an admission of powerlessness and unmanageability.

Most alcoholics are filled with guilt, shame, remorse, and self-loathing when they come into the rooms of AA. They've also gotten very used to keeping secrets from pretty much everyone, so opening up about the nature and extent of your alcoholic behavior is going against the grain. It may even feel completely unnatural and you probably don't want to do it. But sharing your experience and the unmanageability lifts the burden of lugging them around in secret. Letting go of your secrets frees you up to move forward with a different, better life. For many people, the act of sharing Step One in an AA meeting is the true start of recovery.

However, becoming abstinent from alcohol will also be a requirement for starting to work the first step. The first step is all about looking at the effects of alcoholism in your life and for what is needed to be clean: to find a way to stop the behaviors with a perspective that isn't clouded by alcohol. If you've been sober for a while, then the first step is about powerlessness over behaviors that make your life unmanageable.

"The principle that we shall find no enduring strength until we first admit complete defeat is the main taproot from which our whole Society has sprung and flowered."

"WHO cares to admit complete defeat? Practically no one, of course. Every natural instinct cries out against the idea of personal powerlessness. It is truly awful to admit that, glass in hand, we have warped our minds into such an obsession for destructive drinking that only an act of providence can remove it from us.

No other kind of bankruptcy is like this one. Alcohol, now become the rapacious creditor, bleeds us of all self sufficiency and all will to resist its demands. Once this stark fact is accepted, our bankruptcy as going human concerns is complete.

But upon entering A.A. we soon take quite another view of this absolute humiliation. We perceive that only through utter defeat are we able to take our first steps toward liberation and strength. Our admissions of personal powerlessness finally turn out to be firm bedrock upon which happy and purposeful lives may be built."

Laughing Out Loud

*"Please, Lord, teach us to laugh again:
but God don't let us forget that we cried."*

YOU MIGHT BE AN ACHOLIC IF...

- You laugh when you hear ..."If I could drink like regular people, I would get drunk every night!"
- You don't lose your car keys-- you lose your car.
- You're telling the truth when you say "I don't recall."
- The song that best describes your mornings is "Whole Lotta Shakin' Goin' On."

An alcoholic walked into a bar and read a sign that read
"All you can drink for $1.00.
The alcoholic said "I'll have $2.00 worth please"
